It was made available on the Nintendo eShop and was included in the Nintendo eShop download code for the Nintendo 3DS XL until June 2016. The game was ported to the Nintendo Switch on August 26, 2018 in Japan and on September 4, 2018 in the west. It was made available on the Nintendo eShop. GAMEPLAY In the game, you take on the role of a new-arrival in the Lands Between who must escape from the cruel fortress to see the reason for their existence. You are given the ability to freely explore the vast and mysterious continent that lies between both worlds of The Elder and The Fallen. It is discovered that the world is ruled by the powerful Elden Lords who hold dominion over the lands and its numerous people. The destiny of the Elden Lords is unknown and they only ever refer to their current Elden Lord and future Elden Lord as "The One Who Sits Upon the Throne." As a new arrival in the Lands Between, you will have to forge your own destiny and discover the mystery of the Elden Ring, which connects the world of

The Elder to The Fallen. ♦Story: The Elden Ring It is said that the world was brought to be by the Elden Ring. The Elder, who dwells in the sky, had, in times past, sent other rings down from The Elder to the fallen world. However, the Elden Ring went missing after it descended to the world and was only last seen floating in the sky above the tip of an iceberg. This occurrence was an omen that foreshadowed the coming of the new Elden Lord. The only remaining question is: Which Elden Lord will emerge from the skies? ♦[Gameplay] Play through the story of the latest Elden Ring

... While reviewing the comic, I found this really awesome trailer of a new game that will be out for w... When I made this, I was really inspired by The Witcher of The Witcher franchise. Alvar and Gellert are famous for being Geralt of Rivia. Geralt was a never ending quest, but he was very cool, trendy and charismatic. I wonder if Brian could make our charecters look like that... That's it, we'll see what the fans think ;) System: Canon EOS400d Ingredients: * Kilz/Acrylic, latex, dye, water, oil and a few other things I can't remember. I decided that i'd use a different brand of water from my last silhoutte painting. I used Valspar brand latex paint for previous ones but needed to use more brushes for this. I used one that's pretty... Base painter, with no experience at all. Probably an improvement over my previous attempt, which was only 1/6th scale. Take note that I still need to clean up the yellow parts, as they're a lot less porous after a while. Any feedback is welcome. Thank you! @Davedrummer thanks for the compliments! I love your spaceman... Must be tough to do a 1:1, especially with a figure that is the equivalent of 180 years. He is a pretty cool design by the way. My impressions (first one for another scale star wars figure, so I'll report later my favorite of the other ones): @Chromeous Please, you forgot to put wire to ears... I've seen the unreleased previous version of this figure from Serbolore and was wondering to myself: what could they do to make this figure even better? Composition - The composition on this model is perfect. Separation - Fine details and a good visibility. Outer shaping - They made the neck great and the d... I'm having a lull in the making so I thought I'd do something from memory... So I base them at night then I plan the others in the morning. Then I try to do the base painting by itself at least 1 time, because I find it much easier than the big figures (and easier than all the hairs). Anyways... I was supposed to paint this... Yeah, that's what happened (still down to fixing
