Jeff Wentworth was nearly caught up in a high-profile clash between Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick and the Capitol's leader. The Austin Republican was on a part of the Senate floor almost every day during Patrick's second stint in the Texas Legislature, but was not a front-line player. "I was not an elected leader on the floor during that time, and I didn't get caught up in the fray very much," Wentworth said in an interview with The Texas Tribune. But when members debated Patrick's proposed redistricting legislation, Wentworth took to the floor in early 2018 and shot back at the lieutenant governor during debate on the floor that year
